

The Berlin Historical Society focuses on Berlin Veterans at the Berlin Fair

This year at the Berlin Fair, The Berlin Historical Society Museum Barn is honoring those who served in World War II. They will have mannequins in uniform, pictures, and information about our World War II Veterans.

In the photo gallery area, they will be displaying Berlin's Joe Blackburn's WWII Envelope Art. Every letter he sent home from overseas, had a drawing on the envelope. It is a must see!!!

They also invited Peter Galgano, Berlin Veterans Commission and creator of the Berlin Veterans Digital Wall of Honor that is on display in the rotunda of Berlin's Town Hall, to display the video on a 32" Smart TV to be played in a loop in the barn so more people can see it and learn about the history of Berlin's Veterans. There is about 190 Berlin Veterans on the wall at this time.

It is a great tribute to all individuals with Berlin roots and connections who have served the country over time. Berlin residents and/or their family members who have served, whether they live in Berlin or not, can be displayed on the Wall of Honor.

Information handouts will be available at the fair or you can email Peter Galgano at petergalgano@comcast.net or call 860-604-7258.
